

MC Underground “Declaring War-hol on Hunger”

Our group of self-proclaimed “superstars” from McInnes Cooper has decided to “take a walk on the wild side” and build a structure that draws inspiration from the man who gave the world such can-themed works as Campbell’s Soup Cans and 100 Cans. With our lone banana – both a representation of tasty, nutritious fruit and a symbol of 1960s pop art – we’re boldly declaring War-hol on hunger, in the hope that giving will “explode” and the demise of food insecurity will become “inevitable.” So come feast your eyes on our creation, and in the process help us to achieve what we’ve come here for – our very own “15 minutes of fame.”
